TSNN Top Trade Show List—The Rankings by Net Square Footage (NSF) for 2025

What are the largest U.S. shows by attendance, exhibitors and net square footage? Where are the largest trade shows held and what month is most popular? Who produces the largest U.S. trade and consumer shows?

TSNN has the answers. We have reached out to hundreds of show organizers to gather data to produce the most comprehensive list on the U.S. exhibition market. We've crunched the numbers and put together the data in easy-to-use guides based on 2025 numbers. The 2026 list is currently being compiled now. Submit your trade show data for consideration here.

Below find the rankings by NSF. You'll also find rankings by attendance, number of exhibiting companies, and location. Plus, download complete information on each show and its organizer. If you have any questions or feedback about our list, please email TSNN's VP of Group Content Danica Tormohlen.

Methodology

The TSNN Annual Top Trade Shows List was compiled through direct outreach to U.S.-based trade show organizers. All event data was self-reported by the organizer and/or their authorized management team via a standardized online submission form. As part of the submission process, respondents certified that all information provided was accurate and complete to the best of their knowledge.

All U.S. trade show events that took place in calendar year 2025 and were submitted during the data collection period were eligible for consideration. Rankings were determined using three primary metrics: net square footage of exhibit space, total verified attendee attendance, and total number of exhibiting companies.

The online submission portal was open from January 1, 2025, through March 31, 2026. TSNN reserves the right to review submissions for completeness and consistency and may request clarification or additional documentation when necessary. TSNN does not independently audit submitted data and relies on organizer-reported information.
