

Some questions you may want to ask the pediatrician.

- What conditions could be causing my baby's behaviors?
- Is it possible that my baby has cow's milk allergy?
- How do you know whether a baby has cow's milk allergy? If tests are being done, how long will it take to get results?
- What dietary changes should I make if I am nursing a baby who has cow's milk allergy? How soon should my baby's cow's milk allergy symptoms improve after I make these dietary changes?
- What formulas do you recommend for a baby who has cow's milk allergies?
- Do you have samples of hypoallergenic formulas designed for babies with cow's milk allergy, such as Nutramigen with Enflora LGG?
- How soon after switching to a hypoallergenic formula should my baby's cow's milk allergy symptoms improve?
- What is the long-term outlook for my baby if he has cow's milk allergy? Will he always have allergies?
- Should my baby see a specialist, such as a pediatric allergist, gastroenterologist, or dietitian?
