Farm Futures Weekly Tip Sheet

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 2026

1. Evaluate current crop conditions with clear eyes and be willing to reward a rally for bin space and cash flow purposes. - Matt Wiegand, FuturesOne
2. Watch for the potential to capture seasonal highs by the end of the month. - Mike Zuzolo, Global Commodity Analytics & Consulting LLC
3. Revisit your marketing goals and strategy and, if needed, catch up on sales. - Ethan Robson, AgMarket.Net
4. Delve into crop budgets and yield estimates to be ready to take advantage of market opportunities. - Arlan Suderman, StoneX
5. Keep an eye on potential market opportunities caused by Black Sea shipping disruption. - Chris Trant, Hedgepoint Global Markets
6. Now is the time to place target orders to hedge corn, soybeans and wheat. - Lauren Urbanczyk, Texas Hedge Risk Management
7. Price old crop and some new crop before August. - Ed Usset, University of Minnesota
8. If you anticipate a drop in corn yield expectations, consider re-ownership strategies with call options. - Naomi Blohm, Total Farm Marketing

Read More: